

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of BIG Media.

Sinclair is using the public airwaves free of charge. It is obligated by law to serve the public interest. That includes fair and unbiased reporting which is one of the cornerstones of our democracy and something we've seen little of lately with this and certain other communication giants!!

When large companies control the airways, they are guided by the bottom line. The potential for abuse is enormous. Their obligation to the public interest is secondary, at best. Instead of something produced at "News Central" far away, it's important that we, the public, see more substantive news about issues that matter.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to limit media ownership. They show why you need to strengthen and enforce the rules. Sincerely, Diane Strauss

PS I will be calling KOVR in Sacramento.
